Heart A Band of Angels

A Story Inspired by the Jubilee Singers (with audio recording)

Deborah Hopkinson

Simon and Schuster (May 7, 2013)

Summary:

Based on the life of Ella Sheppard Moore, this glowing picture book tells the story of a determined and resilient singing group with a lasting legacy. A loving narrator shares the story of her great-grandmother Ella with her niece. Ella, the daughter of a slave, and the Jubilee Singers traveled all over the world singing the old sorrow songs, the songs of slavery. Their hard work raised funds to keep their college open and pave the way for thousands of students. This luminous, lyrical story is a poignant reminder that the old spirituals, or jubilee songs, stood for hope and freedom.

Alexander and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day

Judith Viorst

Simon and Schuster (September 22, 2009)

Summary:

From children's book legend Judith Viorst comes the perennially popular tale of Alexander's worst day. Alexander and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day is a story that belongs on every child's bookshelf. Alexander could tell it was going to be a terrible, horrible, no good, very bad day. He went to sleep with gum in his mouth and woke up with gum in his hair. When he got out of bed, he tripped over his skateboard and by mistake dropped his sweater in the sink while the water was running. He could tell it was going to be a terrible, horrible, no good, very bad day. It was a terrible, horrible, no good, very bad day. Nothing at all was right. Everything went wrong, right down to lima beans for supper and kissing on TV. What do you do on a day like that? Well, you may think about going to Australia. You may also be glad to find that some days are like that for other people too.

Heart Boundless Grace

Mary Hoffman

Scholastic (2000)

Summary:

These multiple-session video programs on DVD present popular authors talking informally about some of their best-selling books. The DVDs are ideal for introducing new readers to the book and for providing further enrichment, additional depth, and new stories for those who already know and love the book. Each DVD program offers: - a brief "meet the author" segment - multiple sessions, each centering on a 10-minute video segment of the author discussing a portion of the book. Between sessions, participants read the section of the book being discussed in the upcoming week. A separate Leader's Guide is included with discussion questions, activities, tips on group dynamics, and suggestions for adapting the program to a variety of settings and formats. Planning Kit contains a DVD with seven 10-minute sessions, plus "Meet Maxie Dunnam"; one copy of This Is Christianity; and one copy of the video study Leader's Guide. The book explores such questions as: - Who is God? - What is my relationship to God? - Who is Jesus? - Why did Jesus come? - What is sin? - What is salvation? - Who is the Holy Spirit? - ...and more.

Bring on that Beat

Rachel Isadora

Putnam (2002)

Summary:

Pluck a fat bass, play me an ace. Trumpet a song, groove the night long. Saxophone jive, keep us alive! When a jazz trio begins playing under a streetlamp, everyone comes out to listen and dance. It's Harlem in the 1930s, and jazz has the power to make them groove. Combining her fine oil painting style with computer-manipulated colors, Rachel represents the shapes and colors of jazz in a tribute to Duke Ellington with a nod toward painters Klee and Kandinsky. Operating almost wordlessly, the innovative visuals are sprinkled with riffs of slang in snappy couplets-telling a bigger story of how the influence of jazz goes far beyond the neighborhood in this book. This tour de force brings jazz alive for the youngest children.

Heart icon Carnival of the Animals

John Lithgow

Simon & Schuster Books for Young Readers (September 1, 2004)

Summary:

But oh! what a fabulous night he had had, When his world was turned into a zoo! After wandering off from a school field trip, a young boy falls asleep in the Natural History Museum. There he sees his classmates, teachers, and family transformed into a menagerie of animals, from wild hyenas to stately peacocks. John Lithgow's exhilarating word play, inspired by Camille Saint-Saëns's 1886 composition, provides a narrative arc to the piece for the first time. Lithgow created the text for the New York City Ballet, where the Carnival of the Animals ballet, with his narration, debuted in 2003. Boris Kulikov's witty artistic interpretation of the story adds to the fun. A new recording of Saint-Saëns's suite, performed by Chamber Music Los Angeles under the direction of Bill Elliott, complete with John Lithgow's recitation of the text, is included on an enclosed CD.

Crossing Bok Chitto

A Choctaw Tale of Friendship & Freedom

Tim Tingle

Cinco Puntos Press (2006)

Summary:

There is a river called Bok Chitto that cuts through Mississippi. In the days before the War Between the States, in the days before the Trail of Tears, Bok Chitto was a boundary. On one side of the river lived the Choctaws. On the other side lived the plantation owners and their slaves. If a slave escaped and made his way across Bok Chitto, the slave was free. Thus begins Crossing Bok Chitto, told by award-winning Choctaw storyteller Tim Tingle and brought to life with the rich illustrations of Jeanne Rorex Bridges. Martha Tom, a young Choctaw girl, knows better than to cross Bok Chitto, but one day—in search of blackberries—she disobeys her mother and finds herself on the other side. A tall slave discovers Martha Tom. A friendship begins between Martha Tom and the slave's family, most particularly his young son, Little Mo. Soon afterwards, Little Mo's mother finds out that she is going to be sold. The situation seems hopeless, except that Martha Tom teaches Little Mo's family how to walk on water to their freedom. Choctaw storyteller Tim Tingle blends songs, cedar flute, and drum with tribal lore to bring the lore of the Choctaw Nation to life in lively historical, personal, and traditional stories. His collection of stories Walking the Choctaw Road was selected as the Oklahoma Book of the Year. Artist Jeanne Rorex Bridges traces her heritage back to her Cherokee ancestors. Crossing Bok Chitto is her first fully illustrated book.

Five Little Ducks

Pamela Paparone

North-South Books (2005)

Summary:

""Five little ducks went out one day, Over the hills and far away. Mother duck said, ""Quack, quack, quack, quack.""" But only four little ducks came back"" Perfect for toddlers, this cozy and charming counting book, with its rollicking verse and bright, humorous illustrations, is now available in a sturdy board book edition. One by one, the five little ducks disappear, while Mother Duck is busy with her chores. In addition to the dwindling duck family, there are lots of other creatures for children to identify and count in the bucolic early-autumn landscape. And there is cause for celebration when finally all five errant little ducks come back.

Heart Goldilocks and the Three Bears

James Marshall

Walker Books (2013)

Summary:

Some picture books are much too hard. Some picture books are much too soft. But James Marshall's Goldilocks is just right. This is Goldilocks as you've never seen her before! She is very definitely NOT sweet and innocent - oh no. She is one of those naughty, haughty little girls who do exactly as they please, when they please. On her way to buy some muffins, Goldilocks ignores her mother's instructions and takes a shortcut through the forest... There, she discovers the three bears' house and saunters right in without even bothering to knock! Chaos ensues - chairs are broken to smithereens, porridge is spilled everywhere and tidy beds are disturbed! When the three brown bears return from their very pleasant bike ride (they were letting the porridge cool down), they can't believe the scenes of destruction that lie before them. They are NOT amused. Not one bit.

Hokey Pokey

Sheila Hamanaka

Scholastic (2013)

Summary:

Welcome to Hokey Pokey. A place and a time, when childhood is at its best: games to play, bikes to ride, experiences to be had. There are no adults in Hokey Pokey, just kids, and the laws governing Hokey Pokey are simple and finite. But when one of the biggest kids, Jack, has his beloved bike stolen—and by a girl, no less—his entire world, and the world of Hokey Pokey, turns to chaos. Without his bike, Jack feels like everything has started to go wrong. He feels different, not like himself, and he knows something is about to change. And even more troubling he alone hears a faint train whistle. But that's impossible: every kid knows there no trains in Hokey Pokey, only tracks. Master storyteller Jerry Spinelli has written a dazzlingly inventive fable of growing up and letting go, of leaving childhood and its imagination play behind for the more dazzling adventures of adolescence, and of learning to accept not only the sunny part of day, but the unwelcome arrival of night, as well.

Heart I Love Dogs!

Sue Stainton

HarperCollins (December 30, 2014)

Summary:

Dogs, dogs, dogs. I love dogs! Bestselling author Sue Stainton and bestselling illustrator Bob Staake come together to tell of a rambunctious boy's journey through the park on his way to adopt the pet of his dreams—a dog, of course! The short, upbeat, rhyming text and vibrant illustrations make I Love Dogs! perfect for reading aloud to the youngest of dog enthusiasts, but this gem makes a great gift for anyone—of any age or breed—who has ever wanted to shout to the world, "I Love Dogs!" With lazy dogs and crazy dogs, yappy dogs and happy dogs, dogs in the park and dogs that bark, dog lovers will surely want to come back for more, and there's plenty to discover in the detailed illustrations on a second, third, or even fiftieth read. Dog lovers who enjoyed reading Dr. Seuss's Go, Dog, Go!, Bob Staake's My Pet Book, or Patricia MacLachlan and Emily MacLachlan Charest's I Didn't Do It will certainly want to add this doggone fabulous read to their library shelves!

♥ Lunch

Denise Fleming

Macmillan (March 15, 1998)

Summary:

It's time for lunch, and one little mouse is famished! In fact, he's so hungry that once he starts eating, he can't stop. He sinks his teeth into a crisp white turnip, gobbles up some orange carrots, devours an ear of yellow corn, then tosses back some tender green peas. He's full, but this mouse keeps on munching until his bulging belly won't hold another bite. Parents will see their own toddlers in this perky tale, and toddlers won't get enough of the gregarious little mouse. They'll proudly identify the colors of his (and their) favorite foods, and enjoy guessing what fruit or vegetable he'll eat next. Color-savvy readers are sure to spot the rainbow contained in the background pages-- and almost everyone will agree that this is one book about colors that makes the plain old primaries look positively pale!

♥ Manuel the Playing Mantis

Don Freeman

Viking (2004)

Summary:

When Don Freeman died in 1978, he left behind illustrations and a finished manuscript for a story that was close to his heart. Freeman himself was a professional trumpeter and he was working on the story of a creature who loved music—but couldn't make any himself. Manuelo is a praying mantis who spends summer evenings listening raptly to outdoor concerts. How he longs to join in! But though he tries to make a flute from a cattail, a horn from a trumpet flower, and a harp from twigs, nothing seems to work. But then Manulo makes a friend who shows him how to create a cello . . . and in doing so opens the door to Manulo's heart's desire.

My Mouth Is a Volcano

Julia Cook

National Center for Youth Issues (January 30, 2006)

Summary:

(Grades K-5) Louis always interrupts! All of his thoughts are very important to him and when he has something to say, his words rumble and grumble in his tummy, they wiggle and jiggle on his tongue, and press firmly against his teeth, right before he ERUPTS (or interrupts). His mouth is a volcano! But when others begin to interrupt Louis, he learns how to respectfully wait for his turn to talk. Told from Louis' perspective, this story takes an empathetic approach to the habit of interrupting and teaches children a witty technique to help them manage their rambunctious thoughts and words. ## Heart Nora's Stars

Satomi Ichikawa

Penguin Publishing Group (February 1, 1997)

Summary:

One night, the old toys at Nora's grandmother's house magically come to life and coax Nora into a happy romp throughout the enchanted evening, where they gather the stars from the sky and crown her star princess. Ever-thoughtful Nora, however, decides that the stars are meant to shine for all the world, and she tenderly returns them to their proper place. Ichikawa has made this simple embroidery on a child's imaginative play into a joyful dream. Very nice indeed. -- Kirkus Reviews Ichikawa's muted watercolors, brightened with the glowing stars, have a comfortable, homey ambiance due in part to the story's setting -- a spacious old country home that invites the kind of imaginative play the story celebrates. -- Booklist Soft pastel drawings evoke the lush tropical setting and capture the whimsical mood of this quiet bedtime fantasy. -- School Library Journal

Heart Polar Bear, Polar Bear, What Do You Hear?

Bill Martin, Jr.

Macmillan (September 15, 1997)

Summary:

What will you hear when you read this book to a preschool child? Lots of noise! Children will chant the rhythmic words. They'll make the sounds the animals make. And they'll pretend to be the zoo animals featured in the book-- look at the last page! Bill Martin Jr. and Eric Carle are two of the most respected names in children's education and children's illustrations. This collaboration, their first since the classic Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See? (published more than thirty years ago and still a best-seller) shows two masters at their best. A Redbook Children's Picture Book Award winner. The rollicking companion to Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See?

♥ Row, Row, Row Your Boat

Pippa Goodhart

Crown (1997)

Summary:

"Row, row, row your boat, gently down the stream..." The popular song beloved by generations of families with young children is now an exciting adventure story. As two children row their boat downstream, it stops at a magical island, where they meet up with some monkeys, elephants, and--yikes--a lion. Now it's time to run as fast as they can back to the safety of their boat, before the lion catches up with them! Preschoolers will delight in discovering a favorite verse on the printed page, and it's been shown that seeing and singing the words of a familiar song can help children with early stages of reading readiness. The addition of inventive verses, beautiful art, and a visual storyline breathe new life into an old standard.

"Merrily, merrily, merrily, merrily, life is but a dream."

Song and Dance Man (Caldecott Medal Winner)

Karen Ackerman

Random House Children's Books (January 30, 2013)

Summary:

A beautifully nostalgic picture book about one grandfather's younger days that shows you're only as old as you feel!"In this affectionate story, three children follow their grandfather up to the attic, where he pulls out his old bowler hat, gold-tipped cane, and his tap shoes. Grandpa once danced on the vaudeville stage, and as he glides across the floor, the children can see what it was like to be a song and dance man. Gammell captures all the story's inherent joie de vivre with color pencil renderings that leap off the pages. Bespectacled, enthusiastic Grandpa clearly exudes the message that you're only as old as you feel, but the children respond--as will readers--to the nostalgia of the moment. Utterly original."--(starred) Booklist.

Sweet Clara and the Freedom Quilt

Deborah Hopkinson

A. Knopf (1995)

Summary:

An inspiring tale of creativity and determination on the Underground Railroad from Coretta Scott King Award winner James Ransome and acclaimed author Deborah Hopkinson. Clara, a slave and seamstress on Home Plantation, dreams of freedom--not just for herself, but for her family and friends. When she overhears a conversation about the Underground Railroad, she has a flash of inspiration. Using scraps of cloth from her work in the Big House and scraps of information gathered from other slaves, she fashions a map that the master would never even recognize. . . . From the award-winning author-illustrator team of Deborah Hopkinson and James Ransome, this fictional tale of the Underground Railroad continues to inspire young readers 25 years after its original publication. ## Switch on the Night

—R.B.

Ray Bradbury

Knopf (2000)

M. C. Esche

—L.D. and D.D.

Summary:

A new, larger trim size and a handsome jacket make this reissue by premier science fiction author Ray Bradbury and Caldecott Medal-winning artists Leo and Diane Dillon a stunning gift book. A little boy likes lanterns and lamps, but he doesn't like light switches because they turn off the light. Then one day, a little girl named Dark shows up at his door. She helps the boy to see light switches as turning on the night, rather than turning off the light. And when he switches on the night, he also switches on the stars and moon and the crickets and frogs. Sure to reassure any child who has felt afraid of the unknown, Switch On the Night will also impress adult readers with its subtle message about things that are "dark" and its imaginative approach to understanding that which is different.

Heart icon The Bat Boy and His Violin

Gavin Curtis

Aladdin (2001)

Summary:

Reginald loves to create beautiful music on his violin. But Papa, manager of the Dukes, the worst team in the Negro National League, needs a bat boy, not a "fiddler," and traveling with the Dukes doesn't leave Reginald much time for practicing. Soon the Dukes' dugout is filled with Beethoven, Mozart, and Bach -- and the bleachers are filled with the sound of the Dukes' bats. Has Reginald's violin changed the Dukes' luck -- and can his music pull off a miracle victory against the powerful Monarchs? Gavin Curtis's beautifully told story of family ties and team spirit and E. B. Lewis's lush watercolor paintings capture a very special period in history.

Heart Two Cool Cows

Toby Speed

Putnam's (1995)

Summary:

Two adventurous cows jump to the moon, where they find many dozens of other cows enjoying themselves. Millie and Maude are two cool cows who fly to the moon and back in a night wearing the Huckabuck children's new black boots. "Speedy gleefully and rhythmically subverts the nursery classic. And Root plays along zestily, coloring the Huckabuck farm with quiet, pastel tints and the moon with rich, jazzy tones -- some of which 'return' with the cows. "This tales needs some dynamic art, and Root comes through with motion-filled spreads featuring two black-and-white, shades-wearing cows. He catches all the humor, too; each out-of-this-world picture is a smile provoker."
